

Ritesh Bio

Ritesh Chugh is an Professor in Information and Communications Technology at Central Queensland University, Australia. As a socio-technological expert, his research focuses on the influence and impact of information technologies on humans and organisations. His work has been published in various high-quality journals. Ritesh is listed among the Stanford/Elsevier 2024 World's Top 2% Scientists, recognising his impactful research.

Ritesh has received several teaching and research awards, including the national Best Practice in International Education Award from the International Education Association of Australia, and the Dean's Award for Mid-Career Research Excellence. He is also a Senior Fellow of the Higher Education Academy. Actively engaged in public scholarship, he shares his expertise on socio-technological issues with national and international audiences through various media outlets. For more, please visit his university profile page.